

And durst not once peepe out.

Sicin. Come, what talke you of Martius.

Brn. Go see this Rumorer whipt, it cannot be,
The Volces dare breake with vs.

Mene. Cannot be?

We haue Record, that very well it can,
And three examples of the like, hath beene
Within my Age. But reason with the fellow
Before you punish him, where he heard this,
Least you shall chance to whip your Information,
And beate the Messenger, who bids beware
Of what is to be dreaded.

Sicin. Tell not me: I know this cannot be.

Brn. Not possible.

Enter a Messenger.

Mef. The Nobles in great earnestnesse are going
All to the Senate-house: some newes is comming
That turnes their Countenances.

Sicin. 'Tis this Slaue:
Go whip him fore the peoples eyes: His raising,
Nothing but his report.

Mef. Yes worthy Sir,
The Slaues report is seconded, and more
More fearfull is deliuer'd.

Sicin. What more fearefull?

Mef. It is spoke freely out of many mouths,
How probable I do not know, that Martius
Ioyn'd with Aufidius, leads a power 'gainst Rome,
And vowes Reuenge as spacious, as betweene
The yong'ft and oldest thing.

Sicin. This is most likely.

Brn. Rais'd onely, that the weaker sort may with Good Martius home againe.

Sicin. The very trickes on't.

Mene. This is vnlikely,
He, and Aufidius can no more attone
Then violent 'st Contrariety.

Enter Messenger.

Mef. You are sent for to the Senate:
A fearefull Army, led by Caius Martius,
Associated with Aufidius, Rages
Vpon our Territories, and haue already
O're-borne their way, consum'd with fire, and rooke
What lay before them.

Enter Cominius.

Com. Oh you haue made good worke.

Mene. What newes? What newes?

Com. You haue help to rauish your owne daughters, &
To melt the City Leades vpon your pates,
To see your Wiues dishonour'd to your Noses.

Mene. What's the newes? What's the newes?

Com. Your Temples burned in their Ciment, and Your Franchises, whercon you stood, confind
Into an Augurs boare.

Mene. Pray now, your Newes:

You haue made faire worke I feare me: pray your newes,
If Martius should be ioyn'd with Volceans.

Com. If? He is their God, he leads them like a thing
Made by some other Deity then Nature,
That shapes man Better: and they follow him
Against vs Brats, with no lesse Confidence,
Then Boyes pursuing Summer Butter-flies,
Or Butchers killing Flies.

Mene. You haue made good worke,
You and your Apron men: you, that stood so much
Vpon the voyce of occupation, and

The breath of Garlick-eaters.

Com. Hee'l shake your Rome about your eares.

Mene. As Hercules did shake downe Mellow Fruite:
You haue made faire worke.

Brn. But is this true sir?

Com. I, and you'l looke pale
Before you finde it other. All the Regions
Do smilingly Reuolt, and who resists
Are mock'd for valiant Ignorance,
And perish constant Fooles: who is't can blame him?
Your Enemies and his, finde something in him,

Mene. We are all vndone, vnlesse
The Noble man haue mercy.

Com. Who shall aske it?

The Tribunes cannot doo't for shame; the people
Deserue such pity of him, as the Wolfe
Doe's of the Shepheards: For his best Friends, if they Should say be good to Rome, they charg'd him, even
As those should do that had deseru'd his hate,
And therein shew'd like Enemies.

Me. 'Tis true, if he were putting to my house, the brand
That should consume it, I haue not the face
To say, beseech you cease. You haue made faire hands,
You and your Crafts, you haue crafted faire,

Com. You haue brought
A Trembling vpon Rome, such as was neuer
S'ncapable of helpe.

Tri. Say not, we brought it.

Mene. How? Was't we? We lou'd him,
But like Beasts, and Cowardly Nobles,
Gau way vnto your Clusters, who did hoore
Him out o'th' City.

Com. But I feare

They'l roare him in againe. Tullus Aufidius,
The second name of men, obeyes his points
As if he were his Officer: Desperation,
Is all the Policy, Strength, and Defence
That Rome can make against them.

Enter a Troope of Citizens.

Mene. Heere come the Clusters.

And is Aufidius with him? You are they
That made the Ayre vnwholsome, when you cast
Your stinking, greasie Caps, in hooting
At Coriolanus Exile. Now he's comming,
And not a haire vpon a Souldiers head
Which will not proue a whip: As many Coxcombes
As you threw Caps vpon, will he tumble downe,
And pay you for your voyces. 'Tis no matter,
If he could burne vs all into one coale,
We haue deseru'd it.

Omnes. Faith, we heare fearfull Newes.

1 Cit. For mine owne part,

When I said banish him, I said 'twas pity.

2 And so did I.

3 And so did I: and to say the truth, so did very many of vs, that we did we did for the best, and though we willingly consented to his Banishment, yet it was against our will.

Com. Y're goodly things, you Voyces.

Mene. You haue made good worke

You and your cry. Shal's to the Capitoll?

Com. Oh I, what else?

Sicin. Go Masters get you home, be not dismayd,
These are a Side, that would be glad to haue
This true, which they so seeme to feare. Go home,
And shew no signe of Feare.

1 Cit.

1 Cit. The Gods bee good to vs: Come Masters let's home, I euer said we were i'th wrong, when we banish'd him.

2 Cit. So did we all. But come, let's home. Exit Cit.

Brn. I do not like this Newes.

Sicin. Nor I.

Brn. Let's to the Capitoll: would halfe my wealth
Would buy this for a lye.

Sicin. Pray let's go.

Exeunt Tribunes.

Enter Aufidius with his Lieutenant.

Auf. Do they still flye to'th' Roman?

Lien. I do not know what Witchcraft's in him: but
Your Soldiers vse him as the Grace fore meate,
Their talke at Table, and their Thankes at end,
And you are darkned in this action Sir,
Enen by your owne.

Auf. I cannot helpe it now,

Vnlesse by vsing meanes I lame the foot
Of our designe. He beares himselfe more prouder,
Euen to my person, then I thought he would
When first I did embrace him. Yet his Nature
In that's no Changeling, and I must excuse
What cannot be amended.

Lien. Yet I wish Sir,

(I meane for your particular) you had not
Ioyn'd in Commisison with him: but either haue borne
The action of your selfe, or else to him, had left it foly.

Auf. I vnderstand thee well, and be thou sure
When he shall come to his account, he knowes not
What I can vrge against him, although it seemes
And so he thinks, and is no lesse apparant
To th' vulgar eye, that he beares all things fairely:
And shewes good Husbandry for the Volcian State,
Fights Dragon-like, and does archeeue as soone
As draw his Sword: yet he hath left vndone
That which shall breake his necke, or hazard mine,
When ere we come to our account.

Lien. Sir, I beseech you, think you he'll carry Rome?

Auf. All places yeelds to him ere he sits downe,
And the Nobility of Rome are his:

The Senators and Patricians loue him too:

The Tribunes are no Soldiers: and their people

Will be as rash in the repeale, as hasty

To expell him thence. I thinke hee'll be to Rome

As is the Alpray to the Fish, who takes it

By Souerainty of Nature. First, he was

A Noble seruant to them, but he could not

Carry his Honors euen: whether 'twas Pride

Which out of dayly Fortune euer taints

The happy man; whether detest of iudgement,

To faile in the disposing of those chances

Which he was Lord of: or whether Nature,

Not to be other then one thing, nam moouing

From th' Caske to th' Cushion: but commanding peace

Euen with the same austerity and garbe,

Aslie controll'd the warre. But one of these

(As he hath spices of them all) not all,

For I dare so farre free him, made him fear'd,

So hated, and so banish'd: but he has a Merit

To choake it in the vtrange: So our Vertue

Lies in th' interpretation of the time,

And power vnto it selfe most commendable;

Hath not a Tombe so euident as a Chaire

Textoll what it hath done.

One fire drives out one fire; one Naile, one Naile;

Rights by rights fouler, strengths by strengths do faile.

Come let's away: when
Thou art poore 'st of all;

Actus

Enter Menenius, C.

the two Tribunes.

Menen. No, Ile not go
